

DOUBLE SENTENCE IS PRONOUNCED ON LEOPOLD AND LOEB

Judge Caverly Gives Them Life Term for Murder and Ninety-Nine Years on Charge of Kidnaping—Boys Cannot be Released in Less Than 37 Years Under Parole Law

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (AP)—Youth alone, saved Nathan Leopold, Jr., 19 and Richard Loeb, 18, from death on the gallows for the kidnaping and murder last May of 14-year old Robert Franks.

Instead, Judge John R. Caverly, retiring chief justice of the criminal court of Cook county sentenced the two young intellectuals to life imprisonment on the murder charge and to terms of 99 years imprisonment for the kidnaping. Under the latter it was stated, they cannot be released on parole until they have served more than thirty-seven years in the Joliet penitentiary.

The life term alone would have permitted such release after about twenty years.

But the court urged that this privilege be never extended to the self-confessed doers of what he called "an abhorrent crime."

He found no mitigating circumstance in the evil deed itself, its motive or lack of motive or in the personalities and antecedents of the boys; but he said that he chose imprisonment instead of death because of the age of the defendants.

BOYS WILL GET SAME TREATMENT AS ALL RECEIVE

Must Serve Thru Different Grades—Will be Separated

JOLIET, Ill. Sept. 10. (AP)—Nathan F. Leopold and Richard Loeb will receive exactly the same treatment accorded any other prisoners in the state prison here, Warden John L. Whitman said tonight after plans for receiving the youths were completed.

"There will be no side door or backway entrance for Loeb and Leopold," the warden said. "They will enter the front door the same as any other prisoner, passing thru the corridor and then into the guard hall. Here they will find they are under prison discipline."

They will begin to expiate their crime a few moments after they pass into the grim gray stone structures which house more than 2,000 prisoners. Inside the entrance is an iron door. When this clangs behind them they will be ruled henceforth by prison regulations. In the guard hall inside this corridor a record clerk will receive the mittimus for the slayers and will give the officers in charge of them a receipt for the prisoners. Then the youths will be led thru another corridor across the yard and into a building to be photographed in civilian attire. Here they will be assigned numbers.

Haircut First
"We no longer crop the hair of prisoners," the warden said, "but rather do we allow any freak hair cuts. Our barbers will probably take some hair off the heads of both Loeb and Leopold but will allow them to preserve the style they prefer. Their choice may be given a little more consideration when they have been here awhile."

From the barber they will go to another room where they will face the identification expert to have measurements and finger prints taken and then they will be given their first suits of prison clothes. These will not be new suits, Warden Whitman explained but are uniforms reserved for new prisoners. Their regular prison garb, awarded later, consists of underwear, shirt, trousers shoes and stockings. Once a month other outer garb is issued.

Their first night in prison will be spent in "court solitary" and it is in "court solitary" that they will first be separated possibly never to meet or speak to one another again for years, altho under the roof of the same institution.

"Court solitary" is a remnant of an old statute providing that each prisoner must spend his first day and one day in each year spent in prison in solitary confinement.

In Separate Rooms
The youths will be placed in separate rooms for their first night in prison.

Next morning they will face the prison physician and psychiatrist for examination and will be assigned regular prison garb. After again being photographed they will be assigned to cells and to work. At this time they will also be cautioned that absolute silence must be maintained in dining

"This determination appears to be in accordance with the progress of criminal law all over the world and with the dictates of enlightened humanity," said Judge Caverly. "More than that it seems to be in accordance with the precedents hitherto observed in this state. The record of Illinois shows only two cases of minors who were put to death by legal process—to which number the court does not feel inclined to make an addition."

Darrow Satisfied.
The judicial words seemed almost an echo of the eloquence of Clarence S. Darrow, who in his closing plea for the boys denounced hanging as barbaric, especially in the case of the young and urged that "mercy is the highest attribute of humanity."

"It was all we could have asked," he said today after the judgment had been rendered. "I am in contrast to Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, and formerly an occupant of the place held by Judge Caverly said:

"While I do not intend and have no desire to criticize the decision of the court, I still believe that death is the only penalty feared by murderers."

Even as Judge Caverly declined to break precedent by sentencing the boys to hang, so he declined to make precedent by ruling definitely on the big legal technicality of this case, whether a degree of mental sickness, short of legal insanity, might be linked with moral turpitude as a mitigating circumstance. All thru the six weeks of the actual hearing this question was the technical background, with the state's attorney trying to switch proceedings into an insanity hearing and the defense insisting that the question of insanity was barred by the terms of the pleas of guilty.

The court said the analysis of the boys' lives and present mental, emotional and ethical condition was a "valuable contribution to criminology," but he declared that application of such material to crime was subject for legislative rather than judicial determination.

Ten Minutes Sufficient
Ten minutes sufficed to enact the final court scene in the unparalleled criminal drama, but it was ten minutes crowded with suspense.

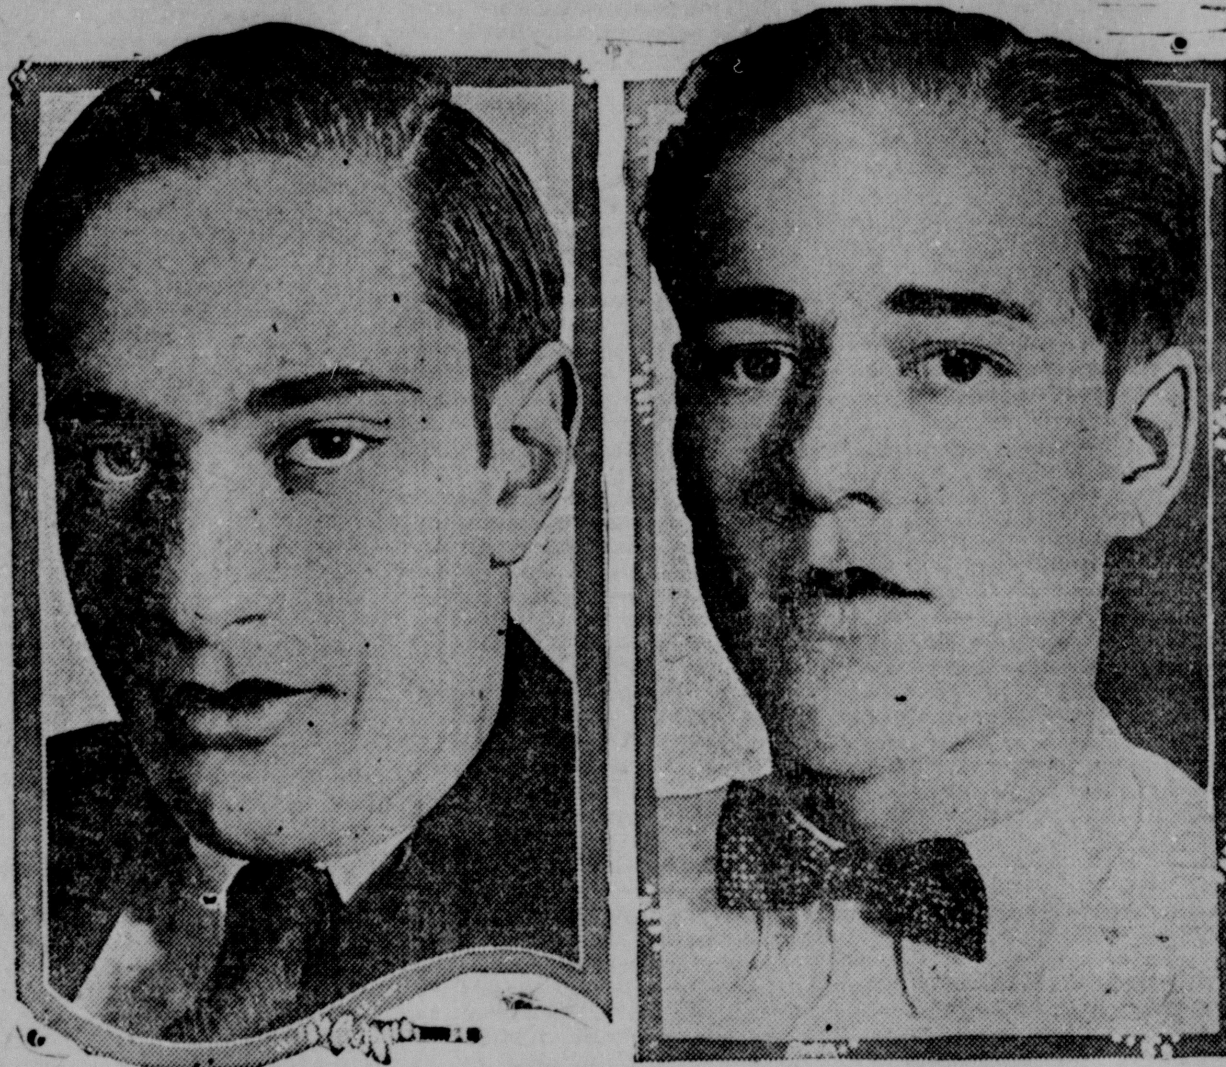

The old room held all the familiar figures save Jacob Franks, father of the victim, when court convened promptly at 9:30 a. m.

Only attorneys, members of the interested families, court attaches, guards and newspaper workers were admitted, but so many of the two latter classes caused the circle before the bench to be jammed and nearly have the public space occupied. "Have the two defendants anything to say in either case?"

"No, Your Honor," responded Benjamin Bachrach for the defense.

Then the judge began to read. He showed plainly the effects of weeks of strain.

RAINY WEATHER HELPS CHINESE IN PREPARATION

Arrange all Troops to Fight When Ground Dries

SHANGHAI, Sept. 20. (AP)—

The wet weather which has interfered with the fighting between the Chekiang and Kiangsu armies west of this city for two days has afforded an opportunity for the generals commanding the forces to prepare for renewed operations when the ground dries. Chekiang, on the offensive when the rain intervened, claims to have made a considerable advance along the Shanghai-Nanking railway and also in the Tai Lake district near Iking, where one of Lu Hung-Hsiang's armies is advancing northwestward toward the railway town of Chang Chow where it would cut the Kiangsu line of communications. To offset this move it is reported that one of Wu Pei-Fu's chief lieutenants, is moving troops thru Nanking to support Kiangsu.

General Chang Eso-Lin, the young war lord of Manchuria is reported to be moving his troops southward from Mukden for an attack on Shan Maikwan, the gateway to Peking along the Mukden-Peking Railway which there skirts the coast.

There is still talk of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the southern leader sending an army north from Canton to help his ally the Tuchen of Chekiang.

Many here believe the recent movement of troops supports the view that the Kiangsu attack on Shanghai was part of Wu Pei-Fu's plan to secure the unification of China.

Judge Holden said: "I positively will not permit anything that smacks of religion or politics to enter into this order."

History Of Hideous Murder Case Closed

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 10. (AP)—Robert Franks, 14-year old son of Jacob Franks, retired president of a watch case manufacturing company and a former pawnbroker, was kidnaped while enroute to the family home at 5052 Ellis Avenue, Chicago, from the nearby playground of the Harvard preparatory school, a private institution he attended, late in the afternoon of May 21, 1924.

While the family was searching frantically for the boy, a telephone message informed Mrs. Franks that Robert had been kidnaped, and how to recover him. Early the next morning Mr. Franks received a neatly typed special delivery letter bearing the signature "George Johnson" with the dictation marks "G. K. R." informing him that Robert was held for $10,000 ransom, that the lad was safe, and to stand by for further instructions as to how to pay the ransom and recover the boy.

At dawn the next morning a workman traversing the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at 118th Street, a wild, uninhabited section just inside the southern corporate limits of Chicago, saw the feet of a nude body protruding from a culvert between two small lakes. The body was taken to an undertaker's establishment where it rested unidentified until late in the afternoon, when a brother of Mrs. Franks went to the morgue on a chance that the body might be that of Robert.

He identified it positively although a pair of horn-rimmed spectacles were affixed on the face. The glasses were found near the culvert and the undertaker thought they belonged to the boy.

Then began one of the greatest manhunts in the history of Chicago, because of the evident brutality of the murderers and the prominence of the Franks family. More than a score of persons, including two instructors at the Harvard school, were arrested, but released when they were able to disprove connection with the kidnaping and murder.

Wide Publicity
Columns of newspaper space were devoted to the case but the headlines were diminishing in size as hope of apprehending the murderers dwindled when unexpectedly Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, announced on May 29 that Richard Loeb, son of Albert H. Loeb, 5017 Ellis Avenue, vice-president of Sears Roebuck and Co., and Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., son of a wealthy paper box manufacturer and shipping man, 4754 Greenwood Avenue, had confessed to the kidnaping and murder.

It developed that all clues with the single exception of the spectacles found near the body had been exhausted. By tracing thousands of prescriptions for spectacles, the state's attorney's force finally eliminated all but four which called for spectacles the same as those found alongside the body. Of the quartette, the officers seized upon Leopold. He previously had been questioned by the police because of his known frequent trips to the place where the Franks boy's body was found, but was released when he explained that his interest in that locality was based solely upon his study of ornithology, the science of bird life, the region abounding in unusual specimens.

Loeb and Leopold related what at first appeared to be an unimpeachable alibi. Leopold finally admitted possible ownership of the spectacles but had about convinced the authorities that he had lost them while on a legitimate trip to the region.

DENOUNCE JONES AND GIVE SMALL THEIR APPROVAL

Federation of Labor Pledges Full Support to Governor

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 10. (AP)—Governor Len Small was unanimously endorsed for re-election and Norman L. Jones, his Democratic opponent was criticised as "untrue to those principles of government on which our nation was founded," by the 42nd annual state federation of labor convention in session here today.

Governor Small was described as a friend of all the people of the state and was pledged "wholehearted support." This action was taken in approving a section of President Walker's report. Particular praise was given the Governor for pardoning William Quesso and other officers of the Chicago Flat Janitors Union.

Defense test day was again criticised. Henry Corbushley, president of Zeigler Miners, asked that action on it be made a special order for tomorrow morning.

"Mobilization Day," he said, "is not a good sign for the working man. Due to the unsettled condition of China and the Dawes report on reparation this mobilization may have more significance than we are privileged to know. Our protest if made tomorrow may have some force, but if we wait till Friday, it will be useless."

President Frank Farrington of the Illinois Mine Workers followed with an address, declaring that the interstate commerce commission has "struck the Illinois miners the most deadly blow ever dealt by any foe they were ever called on to face."

By reducing freight rates for coal in non-union territory and increasing rates for Illinois coal, he said, the commerce commission order had reduced the north-west markets for Illinois coal by one sixth, cutting off the demand for eight million or ten million tons of coal annually.

"I hesitate to impugn the motives of the interstate commerce commission," Mr. Farrington said, "but taking all things into account, I take it as the last attempt made to fulfill President Harding's promise to bring the country back to normalcy."

"A normalcy," he added, "that means untold deprivation and suffering for thousands of miners families in this state."

By unanimous vote the convention voted to "insist" that Richard J. O'Halloran, editor of "The Labor Digest" of LaSalle appear here to explain printed charges against President Walker.

INJUNCTION ASKED AGAINST CANDIDACY OF WOMAN IN TEXAS

Mrs. Ferguson and Husband Refuse to Discuss The Situation

TEMPLE, Texas, Sept. 10. (AP)—Declaring "we are so used to injunctions that I guess one more won't make any difference" Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson of Temple, Democratic nominee for governor, declined to discuss the situation when she was shown an Associated Press dispatch tonight from Austin saying that an injunction suit to keep her name off the ballot in the general election had been filed in Austin by Charles M. Dickson of San Antonio.

Both Mrs. Ferguson and her husband and campaign manager, former Governor James E. Ferguson declined to make any further statement regarding the action.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 10. (AP)—An injunction suit to prevent Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson from becoming governor of Texas was filed here today in the fifty third district court by Charles M. Dickson of San Antonio. The suit is directed against the county judge the county clerk and the sheriff of every county in Texas and seeks to prevent Mrs. Ferguson's name going on the ballot.

AVIATORS SELECT DIFFERENT ROUTE ACROSS CONTINENT

Is Found That Planes Will Not Stand High Altitudes so Southwestern Routes Will be Taken on Return Trip to Pacific Coast—Nelson Joins Others With New Orleans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 —Lieutenant Erik Nelson flew his world girdling airplane New Orleans to Bolling Field from Halethorpe, near Baltimore, late today, rejoining Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith's Chicago, at 6:27 P. M.

The New Orleans, forced down by the ripping of a timing gear yesterday enroute from Mitchell Field to Washington, made the flight in 28 minutes with a new engine. Few spectators greeted the ship, no announcement having been made of the time the hop was to be made.

A new route for the fliers from Washington to Seattle was announced today by the war department which included Dayton, Ohio, Chicago, Omaha, St. Joseph, Mo., Muskogee, Oklahoma, Dallas, Texas, El Paso, Tucson, Arizona, San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco, Eugene, Ore., and Seattle Wash.

The original route via Dayton, Ohio to Chicago and westward along the air mail line to Sacramento, was changed at the request of Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, commanding the world squadron, after he and his colleagues had completed a careful inspection of the airplanes.

Nelson Arrives
Lieutenant Nelson's arrival was sharply contrasted to the formal reception accorded him yesterday when he arrived in a Bolling Field machine, after the accident to receive with Lieutenants Smith and Wade the welcome extended on behalf of the nation by President Coolidge and other high government officials.

Leaving in a Bolling Field plane late today, he found that repairs to the New Orleans had been completed at Halethorpe under the direction of Lieutenant John Harding, Jr., his mechanic, climbed into his seat and, without more ado, brought his famous machine to Washington.

The flight was made by Lieutenant Nelson personally to keep the record straight so that once again at Seattle, the starting point, no question of a few miles could rise to mar, even to the extent of a technicality, the log of his trip around the world. He re-joined his comrades at a buffet supper given in their honor tonight by Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service which interrupted not unpleasantly the delightful experience of flying around in the presidential suite of the New Willard Hotel in an atmosphere amazingly free from all alarm clocks.

The inspection of the planes was said in an official statement made public by the war department to have disclosed strains resulting from the 300 odd hours of flying to which the machines have been subjected which have considerably reduced their efficiency and will make it impossible for them to climb to a height of more than 6,500 feet without danger.

The changed itinerary eliminates stops which had been planned for the fliers at North Platte, Neb.; Cheyenne and Rock Springs, Wyo.; Salt Lake City and Salsboro, Utah; Reno, Nev., and Sacramento, California.

The transcontinental leg of the flight which is to tie in the aerial loop around the world, was postponed today to allow Lieutenants Smith, Nelson and Wade to participate here in the Defense Day Test Friday. Under the new schedule they are to take off from Bolling Field Saturday morning about 8 o'clock for Dayton, and report at the west coast terminal on the afternoon of September 23.

STATE'S ATTORNEY CROWE DECLARES HE IS NOT SATISFIED

Still Insists Death Sentence Was The Only Proper Penalty

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (AP)—State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe late today issued the following statement in connection with the decision in the Loeb-Leopold case: "One of the Chicago afternoon papers contains a caption: 'Crowe is content with decision' over the statement I issued following the judge's decision. 'So my position may not be misunderstood, I am anything but content with the decision as clearly indicated by the statement itself. I have believed and still believe that in my judgment the extreme penalty was the only fitting punishment for the crime as I am just as firm in that opinion now as I was then.'

JUSTICE HAS BEEN DONE

The finding rendered by Judge Caverly in the Loeb-Leopold case sends these sons of millionaire Chicago families to Joliet penitentiary for life. They were sentenced for life on a charge of murder and for 99 years on a kidnapping charge.

The verdict means that the defendants will thus be removed from society. They confessed their guilt and admitted the crime in all its heinous details. There has been a widespread demand for the infliction of capital punishment. However, a majority of the people, at least those who have given much consideration to the evidence in the case, will believe that Judge Caverly reached a wise decision.

Certainly the evidence has revealed that these two young men are not of normal mind. They were not tried as to their sanity but enough evidence was produced in the hearing to raise some question as to their full mental responsibility for their deeds. Taking these and countless other details into consideration, it is not surprising that the court declined to inflict capital punishment.

THE NEW COMMON LABOR

For the benefit of those who are worrying about how America is going to get on without the alien hordes who used to furnish our common labor, James H. Collins in a late Saturday Evening Post has figures to allay their fears.

In 1880, one horsepower of steam per wage earner was used. Now, in factories, about four horsepower per laborer is used, and in all industrial activities new forms of power have almost entirely taken the place of the less efficient "man-engines."

In road-building, "no further back than three years ago, Italians by the half-hundred swarmed on the job. Today they come in gangs of a half-dozen, bringing machines that do the work several times as fast and a good deal better."

In government service there are too many workers, and much work is slackly done. "If only 15 per cent of the government employees were shifted into other occupations, that would far more than make up for the loss of immigration under the new law."

This is a matter of management rather than of machines. The two work hand in hand.

The idea that the native American will not perform common labor because it is rough and dirty, says Mr. Collins, is a superstition. He'll do anything if you give him power to do it with, although "it will still be rough and dirty—running an air drill or a steam shovel is no clerical job."

There may be something in this. The native American certainly takes the sense of power and skill that handling power machinery gives him. And he likes any job that pays him enough to give him a generous living.

Work is much better done with power machines plus brains than with mere muscles. And some new kind of power machine or improvement on an old one, is being invented every minute.

of that early day and some of it was dark but most of it was white—all of it was humorous. Anne Levering Bower, aged 53, went to school with Sam and moved in the circle that knew him best and most at the time.

"Sam," said Mrs. Bower, "had one habit the girls used to talk about."

She paused and her eyes drooped in confusion before her auditor, and pink of the natural kind colored her aged cheeks.

Then she brightened bravely and continued: "I guess it's all right, for I'm thinking you are married and will understand, Sam," she continued still with some confusion and searching for the most chaste manner of expression, "Sam, used to have a habit of pulling up his—his—socks when he was with a girl. He didn't wear any supporters, I guess."

More blushes and a long sigh of relief because she had finally relieved her gentle old chest of the scandalous doings of Sam, who brazenly adjusted his hose in the horrified presence of the young ladies.

This is 1924. We of the time know and have seen legs of all kinds, colors, shapes and lengths, clothed and unclothed. They are on parade anywhere and everywhere. They mean but little in our blasé existence, excite little attention or interest.

But Anne Levering Bower, at 53, can still blush confusedly as she recalls that Sam Clemens, some 70 years ago, pulled up his socks in the presence of a lady.

We have gone far in one direction or another—so far, that—well a blush is a mighty unusual thing.

Episode No. 3 of the JACK DEMPSEY

BELIEVING WHAT YOU HEAR BY ALBERT APPLE

This controversy between religion and science, about the theory of evolution, simmers down to the problem of how much one is willing to accept "on faith."

The scientists claim that religion is based on faith rather than proved fact.

But does it ever occur to these scientists that at least 95 percent of their scientific knowledge is also based on faith?

For instance, every scientist will take oath that the skull of a creature known as the Java Ape, supposed to be half a million or so years old, exists—having been reconstructed from fragments. But how many scientists have actually seen this skull? Belief in this skull is entirely a matter of faith—credulously accepting the word of others.

We're all like the scientists, in that 95 percent of what we 'know' is accepted on faith alone. How do you know that there's a country called China? Were you ever there to see with your own eyes? Most of us have never seen China, but we believe in it.

Faith in the word of others makes us believe nearly everything we class as knowledge. Studying chemistry, we are told that water is a combination of hydrogen and oxygen—and we accept this as true, on faith.

Scientists "swore by" the authenticity of the Cardiff Giant—because they had faith in it—until the giant was exposed as a "planted" hoax of P. T. Barnum.

The world is so big that a man traveling constantly for 100 years would see only a small fraction of the whole before he dies. With this handicap, it's quite natural that nearly all of our knowledge is accepted on the basis of faith.

Faith is one of the mightiest forces in life.

It is just as much present in science as in religion. All theories are eventually proved false—from Columbus knocking out the scientific history that the earth was flat, to Einstein proving that parallel lines DO meet if indefinitely prolonged. The history of science is a history of exploded convictions—shattered faiths.

Scared Objecting to being held up, a grocer named Frank Salkley gave chase to the robber in Danville.

CAPT. RUEGG TO BE DEFENSE DAY SPEAKER

Speakers Will Deliver Addresses at Schools Friday Morning—Public to Re-Pledge Allegiance to Flag.

Announcement was made yesterday by Homer G. Bradley, chairman of the speakers committee for National Defense day that Capt. William A. Ruegg of Springfield has been secured to make an address here tomorrow night at the Defense Day observance.

Capt. Ruegg is a speaker of ability and will have a message well worth hearing. During the World War he served as captain of the infantry attached to the headquarters staff in France, and saw a number of months' service at the front.

Capt. Ruegg is a member of Col. Stearns' Reserve officers corps in Springfield and is connected with one of the prominent law firms of that city.

Business and fraternal organizations have made a gratifying response to the appeal for cooperation made by Capt. Wesley James, who is chairman of the parade committee. The local Howitzer company will in all probability be the only military organization in the parade, but various other organizations are to be well represented and the indications are that the parade will be one of the best which has appeared here in recent years.

On Friday morning speakers who have been obtained by the committee will deliver addresses at the various schools in the city the list of speakers for the various schools being as follows: W. T. Harmon—Routt College. Leo Flood—Parochial School. Hugh Green—High School. Frank Wannamaker—Junior High School. Harlan Williamson—Washington School. Rev. Marbach—Lafayette School. Charles Story—Jefferson. Carl Robinson—Franklin School. Dr. Applebee—School for the Blind.

Tonight a meeting of all of the committees will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at which time Hugh Green will deliver an informal address on Defense Day. All committee members are urged to be present.

One of the features of the parade will be the engine and box car belonging to the 40th, which recently made the overland trip to Champaign for the annual convention of the American Legion and the 40-8.

It is planned to have the ceremony at the platform include a Mass Allegiance to the flag, all present renewing their pledge of allegiance in unison.

CONVENTION BRIEFS

Dr. McCormick and Mrs. A. Water of the United Societies held the conference following the women's program yesterday afternoon. Both made stirring appeals for the completion of the Golden Jubilee fund in Illinois.

The address of Dr. H. H. Peters Tuesday night was enjoyed by every one. He is a speaker of wit and presents his facts in a way that gets them across.

Both Dr. Peters and Dr. Wilson are having their difficulties in locating ministers, yet the state secretary placed a hundred in Illinois churches last year, and Dr. Wilson is meeting with some success in supplying the vacant churches about Eureka.

Those who heard the paper on "The Present," given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Jessie C. Monser of Decatur, were rewarded with a fund of missionary information. The societies have total assets of $9,273,000. The amount collected during the past year was $320,000 more than the previous year. The societies are curing from 750 persons thru ministerial relief. This past year in China 320 converts were added to the church. One station in Africa reported 340, and the total converts in Jamaica were 291. There was a 31 percent increase in the number of converts in Mexico.

"What is needed is a clear, true, steady faith that the task will be accomplished. But the soul closes when we think only of self," Mrs. Monser.

"The book of Revelations deals with the unveiled person of Jesus Christ. It expresses a firm belief in his deity," Prof. Moore.

"As far as I am concerned there will be no snap courses in Eureka College," Dr. Wilson.

Everyone is enjoying the bible messages of Prof. Moore. He has given expositions of the books of Genesis and Revelations and has explained the message method and purpose of ministry, as set forth in scripture. Today he will give a study of the 23rd Psalm.

Mrs. Butchart, who has been for 17 years a missionary in China, and who spoke briefly at the jubilee banquet last night, is now educating her four children in this country. The two young men of the family are planning to go to the foreign field, one as a medical missionary. Her two daughters plan to prepare themselves to teach in China. Finally Mrs. Butchart herself expects to return to China after she has educated her children here. This is a big piece of work which Mrs. Butchart has outlined, and she is to be congratulated for her courage and zeal for the work of the kingdom.

Mrs. Holroyd, who recently returned with her husband from their work in China, related some interesting incidents at the jubilee banquet. One told how the Chinese Disciples responded to the call for the Jubilee pledges. Instead of the $250 which it was thought the Chinese would give, they came forward with $2,300. Dr. McCormick stated to the convention later that the missionaries in the China field gave fully half that the total amount from their salaries.

In view of the fact that Dr. Peters lost his cane soon after his arrival in this city, the deacons of Central Christian church last night presented him with a new one. President Gunn made the presentation speech and Dr. Peters accepted the gift in a humorous response.

Several companies have booths in the rest room of the church, in which an extensive line of books are exhibited. The companies represented at the convention are the Standard Publishing Co., The Christian Board of Publication, and the Hackleman Book Supply Co.

Many delegates arrived as late as yesterday afternoon, having missed fully half the convention. This is too bad, as the first two days were instructive and helpful.

Miss Pearl Smith, a singing evangelist of this state, sang a solo at the Wednesday evening session.

Illinois has pledged thus far $41,000 to the golden jubilee fund. About $20,000 of this amount has been collected. In the next thirty-five or forty days the state must raise an additional $60,000 in order that the Christian churches of the state may have a clear balance of their allotted fund raised at the national convention in Cleveland.

DELEGATES RAISE BIG FUND FOR LOCAL HOME

Generous Gift of More Than $1,000 Provided by Convention Visitors to Complete Work on Old People's Home.

Delegates to the Disciples convention did an unexpected but splendid piece of work yesterday morning when they raised the sum of $1,040 to complete improvements being made on the Old People's Home in this city. The gift came during the last period of the morning session when Rev. M. L. Pontius introduced a number of the aged inmates of the home to the convention.

The guests were brought from the home in cars and presented to the delegates. The work being done at the home was explained, and the visitors were told that at present the building is undergoing extensive repairs.

It was mentioned during the session that some of the upstairs rooms would have to remain unfinished for sometime, on account of lack of funds to complete the work. Someone in the audience suggested that an offering be taken for this purpose, and in a few minutes the sum of $1,040 was raised on the floor of the convention. The gift is greatly appreciated by the local board and will be remembered by the city as well being considered an act of great generosity and thoughtfulness on the part of the visitors.

It was expected that the delegates would visit the Home and make an inspection; but on account of the repairs being made this is not possible, and only a few of the delegates have visited the institution.

ILLINOIS CONFERENCE NOTES

(By C. R. Morrison)

Bloomington, Sept. 10.—(Special to Journal)—The return of Bishop McDowell to the Illinois Conference as its presiding officer, after eight years of absence was noted with pleasure, as at 8:30 the conference was opened with devotional exercises. The singing led by Rev. J. A. Betcher of Pawnee, former assistant to the late Rev. W. S. Phillips whose departure was noted on several occasions with tenderness and deep respect.

After the sacramental service administered by the Bishop assisted by the seven district superintendents the roll was called by the secretary, Rev. F. G. Sandmeyer of First church Urbana, and an unusual number of the 400 members of the conference responded.

The call of the names of deceased preachers was made, the conference standing, after which a memorial service was observed.

Rev. W. A. Smith of Springfield presiding. The annual address was delivered by Rev. Royal W. Ennis of Williamsville, and was a tender respect paid to "Our Fallen Heroes and Heroines." In addition to the names of Phillips, Pliner and Goodspeed as noted before the closing days of the conference witnessed the sudden departure last week of Rev. John M. Eldredge of Loomis, formerly pastor of Waverly Circuit, aged 59 and Rev. T. B. Wright of Niantic formerly school teacher at Island Grove.

Following came the election of conference officers:

Recording secretary—E. D. Sandmeyer, Urbana.

Statistician—O. H. Meyers, Grigsbyville.

Treasurer—Homer Woltmire, Barry.

Auditor—J. W. Armstrong of Greenfield.

Minute business took up the morning hour. Reports of district superintendents. Special introductions and amusements.

Hutchinson of Chicago, managing editor of the Christian Century, was the big feature of the Joint Epworth League anniversary at the gymnasium, presided over by the president of the Illinois Conference Epworth League, Rev. L. B. Haggard of the Central Illinois conference, leading the devotions. Dr. Hutchinson spoke of the "Youth Movement of the World." How in Japan, China, India and Europe, young men and women, forward looking and distrustful of the past are seeking to find a way of peace and a path of service for the war weary races of their own and all lands.

The Preachers' Aid Society has had a prosperous year and Field Secretary Gibbs has reported assets of $584,416.00—besides estate notes of $63,000 that will, from year to year come into the society's treasury.

cles of Bobby's clothing, the automobile robe in which the body had been wrapped and the other things used in the murder. Some were burned, some were buried in widely separated spots and the cold chisel was hurled from the automobile not far from the scene of the kidnapping.

The automobile used was obtained from a rent-a-car agency and was of the same type as Leopold's personal car. To obtain it the youths used assumed names, registered at two hotels and established two bank accounts.

The ransom letter was prepared well in advance of the kidnapping, sealed and the envelope left unaddressed, that feature to depend upon the child chosen for death.

The typewriter was a portable stolen from the house of the fraternity of which Loeb was a member before he was graduated from the University of Michigan. The letter written, the typewriter was damaged badly and thrown into a lagoon in Jacksonville Park.

The morning of the finding of the Franks boy's body, but before it had been identified, Loeb and Leopold again telephoned the Franks home but Mr. Franks again was absent. Later they telephoned again instructing Mr. Franks to ride in a taxi cab to a certain drug store where he would receive other telephonic instructions as to how to pay over the ransom. Mr. Franks knew by then that his son was dead and refused to enter the taxicab. The youths intended to instruct Mr. Franks to board a fast train for the East and at aspecified point hurl a cigar box containing the money from the train. Additional instructions were in a letter placed in a message rack in a parlor car. That letter was found later at New York.

Help Find Missing Articles

Upon concluding their confessions Loeb and Leopold agreed to go with officers and prosecutors on a tour of the route they had traveled from the moment the Franks boy was seized until the last article in connection with his murder was disposed of. They pointed out the various spots where they buried or burned articles and assisted the officers in their recovery. The typewriter was retrieved from the lagoon by a professional diver.

Shortly after the youths had confessed, Clarence S. Darrow, veteran criminal lawyer, and Walter and Benjamin Bachrach, brothers, were engaged in their behalf. Their first act was to seek writs of habeas corpus to remove the boys from the custody of the state's attorney and have them placed in jail.

The boys confessed on May 31 and six days later the Cook county grand jury indicted them on charges of murder and kidnapping for ransom, both punishable by death in Illinois. One June 11, they appeared before Judge John R. Caverly, chief justice of the Criminal courts of Cook county, pleaded not guilty and were held without bail for trial beginning August 4. Ten days later their pleas unexpectedly were changed to guilty and the court consented to hear evidence as to the nature of the crime from the state and testimony in mitigation of punishment offered by the defense.

The formal hearing began July 23. The state introduced 82 witnesses who testified as to the aggravation of the crime, the defense, countered with a score, including four eminent mental pathologists, and the state closed with testimony in rebuttal of eight witnesses, including four mental experts and one student of endocrinology.

The mooted subject of the crime, the actual slayer, seemed definitely settled by the testimony of Dr. Bernard Glueck of New York, defense alienist, corroborated by Dr. H. S. Hulbert of Chicago, that Loeb struck the fatal blow.

The defense placed its plea for penitentiary sentences rather than death on the gallows on a finding of a degree of "mental sickness," short of insanity, however, in both youths, attributing it to functional disorders of the endocrine glands, childish phantasies continuing into the mature years as malign influences, and stunted emotional growths. The state sought to prove that the youths were entirely responsible mentally, emotionally and physically.

Wanted Same Defense as Others

Both the Leopold and Loeb families disclaimed any intention to use their enormous wealth to cheat the law and were agreed that the boys were menaces to society and should be confined although they desired for them the same defense permitted any other lawbreaker in an effort to save their lives.

It was brought out on the witness stand that the four alienists were to receive a fee of $250 a day. The attorneys fees would be stipulated by a committee composed of the officers of the bar association of Chicago.

The participation of the Franks family in the hearing was not elaborated upon. Two of the alienists for the prosecution one of whom testified his fee was to be $250 a day, said they had been engaged for the state through Samuel Ettelson, former corporation counsel for Chicago, and a friend of the Franks family. He advised with the prosecution but did not participate openly.

Mr. and Mrs. Franks appeared as opening day witnesses to establish the corpus delicti, and Foreman Leopold, brother of Nathan, and Allan Loeb, brother of Richard, and Jacob M. Loeb, uncle of Richard, and former president of the Chicago board of education, were the only members of the defendant's families on the witness stand.

The youthful murderers were graduated as the youngest members of their classes at the University of Chicago and the University of Michigan, each now being 19 years old. They were scions of old Chicago families. The Leopold family has been in Chicago since 1867. Albert H. Loeb, father of Richard, was born in Chicago in 1868. The grandfathers of both youths were among those, who like Carl Schurz, came to this country from Germany because of the failure of the revolution of 1848. Both families like the family of Bobby Franks, are of Hebrew descent.

RED CROWN

In favor of the defendants. The smiles which the state's attorney and his associates wore into court did not abate a jot at this point.

A few moments later there was further pronouncement, depressing for the defense, when the court adjudged that "neither in the act itself, nor in its motive or lack of motive, nor in the antecedents of the offenders," was there to be found any mitigating circumstance.

It sounded like a death sentence and the impression was heightened as the judge followed this summary with quotations from the statutes—defining the crimes of murder and kidnapping for ransom and fixing the penalties therefor.

Then he suggested that in cases of such great responsibility some states had wisely provided that three judges should determine the penalties. There was a note of weariness in his voice as he read:

"The court would have welcomed the counsel and support of others."

Nevertheless the court is willing to meet his responsibilities," he added firmly. Still the shadow of the gallows hung in the tense room but the next sentence dispelled it.

Considers Youth

"It would have been the path of least resistance to impose the extreme penalty of the law. In choosing imprisonment, instead of death, the court is moved chiefly by the consideration of the age of the defendants, boys of 18 and 19 years."

The defense attorneys face showed an ever lighting burden while the prosecutors in turn became grave.

The boys themselves remained at rigid attention.

Loeb blinked and gulped, but not a perceptible muscle moved in Leopold. The latter's aged father raised streaming eyes to the bench.

Allen Loeb, brother of Dickie, and their uncle, Jacob Loeb, former president of the Chicago board of education shifted to more upright positions.

There followed words of counsel to the public, the court asking that the people generally consider the prolonged suffering of years of confinement, would be "the severer form of expiation to youths of the type they are," reared in the homes of luxury, successful in school and unquestioned in their goings and coming by indulgent parents.

Against Parole

Again the court digressed as in a few sentences he advised future officials of the state department of public welfare not to parole the offenders.

"To such a policy the court urges them strictly to adhere," he said.

said. There remained only the formal words of the actual sentencing, delivered without break in the rapid fire of words from the bench.

No pause intervened, either as the judge directed his clerk to distribute copies of the finding and ordered deputy sheriffs to retire with the prisoners.

Judge Caverly was on his feet as this order was completed and headed for his chambers even as the final gavel fell on the court proceedings in the famous case.

Jailers fairly hustled Leopold and Loeb away. Nathan permitted Loeb to fondle Clarence Darrow's arm momentarily.

"Everybody out," called a bailiff, but his admonition was not needed. Attorneys broke thru cordons of newspaper interviewers. Allen Loeb, hurried to a telephone to send the news to Charlevoix, Michigan, where Richard's father and mother are both ill, and other members of the families passed rapidly into the corridors, entered waiting elevators and hurried to their automobiles.

Judge Caverly chatted with a few friends in his chambers, but refused to receive interviewers. After about three quarters of an hour, he slipped away thru the jury room and left the building so quickly that his going was not noticed by people on the street.

U. S. W. V. WILL GO TO ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. Sept. 10 (AP)—The United Spanish War Veterans' association in annual encampment here today selected St. Petersburg, Fla., as the 1925 encampment place. St. Petersburg won over Portland, Oregon, which had also bid for the meeting. Because of the large number of candidates for commander in chief no decisive vote was obtained today.

OPINIONS DIVIDED ON FRANKS VERDICT

Cleveland, O., Sept. 10.—Common pleas judges of this county were divided in denouncing Judge John R. Caverly's sentence of life imprisonment for Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb. Several held that the evidence justified a death sentence and others declined to comment rather than say that Judge Caverly was in a better position to judge than they were.

rooms, chapels, in the baths and while marching. They may talk to fellow prisoners while working and may talk to their cell mates.

Warden Whitman made it plain that they will not be confined in the same cell. One will be on one side of the old prison building, the other on the opposite side. They may possibly see one another in marching or in the dining halls, but will have no opportunity to converse and for a time at least they will not have cell mates but will be kept alone, the warden indicated.

The boys will be assigned to manual labor of some kind, the warden said. The prison conducts shoe shops, furniture shops, rat shops, a stone quarry, a machine shop, and several smaller shops.

In one of these shops the boys will be put to work.

"They will have no office work at the start," Warden Whitman said. "New prisoners are often spoiled by being given office positions. They do not learn to adapt themselves to prison life. That is the real essential and that is why Loeb and Leopold will be put at some kind of labor when we find out what they are best adapted. They may be able to work up to office positions thru their merit system but this will take at least nine months. Prisoners here are graded on their behavior, workmanship, mental attitude and their general disposition and effort to do well."

It takes at least six months for a prisoner to work into grade A, where he must keep himself for three months more before being eligible for any consideration. Neither will the slayers be allowed many of the privileges enjoyed during their confinement in the Cook county jail, Warden Whitman said.

Prisoner's Fare
"Prisoners must eat the prison fare," he explained. "If they have money they may buy tobacco, gum, candy, a comb, a tooth brush and similar articles. They may draw books and magazines from the prison library but they must also be in bed each night by 8:30. They can have a visitor once in two weeks and can write a letter once in two weeks. Leopold will have no opportunity to write a book while he is here as he has planned, at least not for a good many years."

The prison fare is plain but there is plenty of it Warden Whitman said, adding that the only time the millionaires' sons will have an opportunity to eat anything else will be when a visitor brings them something. Then they must eat it during the half hour period they are with the visitor. If Loeb and Leopold arrive here tomorrow they will partake of the following menu:

MENU

BREAKFAST

Corned beef hash, bread, syrup and coffee.

DINNER

Vegetable soup, short ribs, potatoes and bread.

SUPPER

Apple sauce, bread, syrup, tea, hot biscuits.

They will get up at 6 a. m., breakfast between 6:30 and 7, work from 7 to 11:15, lunch from 11:30 to 12, work from 1 to 4:30, have supper at 5, and will be in their cells from 6 to 8:30 when they must retire.

Aside from reading, the only recreation provided in the old prison, is a movie show each Saturday morning. Chapel services are conducted on Sunday but attendance is not compulsory. A Protestant minister and a Catholic priest alternate in conducting the services but frequently a Jewish rabbi is also brought to the prison.

Warden Whitman said that if the boys sentences of 99 years each run consecutively they would not be eligible for parole on the 99 year sentence for 33 years, after which they would have to serve at least 20 years of the life sentence before the case would receive consideration. Some prisoners, he said, are taking correspondence school courses and Loeb and Leopold might be permitted to do business. In the new prison where all prisoners will be moved in a few months, provisions for outdoor games Saturday mornings has been made.

Because of the prominence of the prisoners the warden indicated, extra care will be taken to see that they are not the recipients of favors and that the youths are treated at all times just as two thousand other prisoners are treated.

COOLIDGE AND DAVIS WALL STREET TWINS DECLARES WHEELER

Says Same Interests Instrumental in Nomination of Both

ROCHESTER, Sept. 10. (AP)—Senator Wheeler, independent candidate for vice-president in a speech here tonight referred to President Coolidge and John W. Davis as "the Wall Street Twins" and he quoted at length a letter from Mr. Davis said to have been written early this year, discussing his law practice.

"Everybody knows what Coolidge has done, or rather what he has not done," he said. "Everybody knows that he is a pawn moved hither and thither by the combination of interests that dominated the Chicago convention in 1920 and the Cleveland convention in 1924."

"Everybody knows that Mellon has been president since the death of President Harding. Everybody knows that the Republican press, aided by the reactionary Democratic press for the past year has been building up a mythical man in the white house before which the public is asked to bow down in worship. I do not think the average voter has been misled to any great extent."

"The same interests that placed Harding in nomination in Chicago and Coolidge in nomination in Cleveland, also placed John W. Davis in nomination on the Democratic ticket in New York. So we have Coolidge and Davis, the Wall Street Twins."

The turnout at Rochester was considerably larger than any other encountered during Senator Wheeler's New York State tour.

Bishop Welch brought out that there were two forces at work in Japan, the conservative or the military duocracy, seeking to keep the youth of Japan from doing any free or creative thinking and the democratic group fostering the liberal and progressive tendencies.

The recent legislation by the United States he said was a severe blow to the democratic group.

Wooden Shoes

"The peasants in America do not wear wooden shoes at all, even in the fields!" writes Abbe Pierre, of Gascony. "No, the peasants there wear shoes of leather, although I should think that sabots would be much more serviceable, not only on the roads, but plowing. . . . And wooden shoes are far less expensive. Ah, that America is an extravagant country!"

Advertisements haven't yet taken the heavy wooden shoes from Gascon feet—nor yet the heavy wooden shoes from Gascon minds. Gascony thinks in the past. America in the future.

Advertisements make the difference. They criss-cross improvements in countless directions across the miles. They distribute Fords, furnaces and electric lights so widely that foreigners think you extravagant to enjoy them. They put you in touch with the latest conveniences. They help so many people enjoy those conveniences that their cost to you is small.

You read advertisements to link yourself with the best—to substitute speed for the shambling progress you otherwise would have to make in the lonely wooden shoes of isolation.

Do you read them regularly? Good habits pay.

CIRCUS PLEASED IN TWO PERFORMANCES

The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus came to Jacksonville yesterday and pleased the people with afternoon and evening performances. Because of the late arrival of the trains from Carlinville it was necessary to abandon the plan for a street parade. The circus tents were raised on the Stout lot and although the work of putting up the canvas was delayed, it was possible to begin the afternoon performance on time.

The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus presents a great array of attractions. Time honored circus stunts with many more of recent origin are included. The menagerie is a very strong feature and performing animals have a large place in the program.

The extremely cool weather cut the attendance to some extent but the audiences both afternoon and evening found the performance up to the expected high standard. The circus trains moved from Jacksonville to Mexico, Mo., over the C. & A.

LOCAL KIWANIS PRIZE ENTERTAINERS

GALESBURG, Ill., Sept. 10.—Jacksonville Kiwanians won first prize for staging the most amusing stunt at the district convention held in this city. Competition was keen but the Jacksonville men won handsily. The West Side Chicago club won the first prize for constructive work and Streater honors for the most artistic presentation.

Horace McDavid of Decatur was elected district governor and the delegates decided to hold the next convention with the Uptown club in Chicago in 1925. The two days' convention was one of the most interesting in the history of the organization. The program was made up to the most part of the discussion of organization projects of a serious kind, but social features were not lacking.

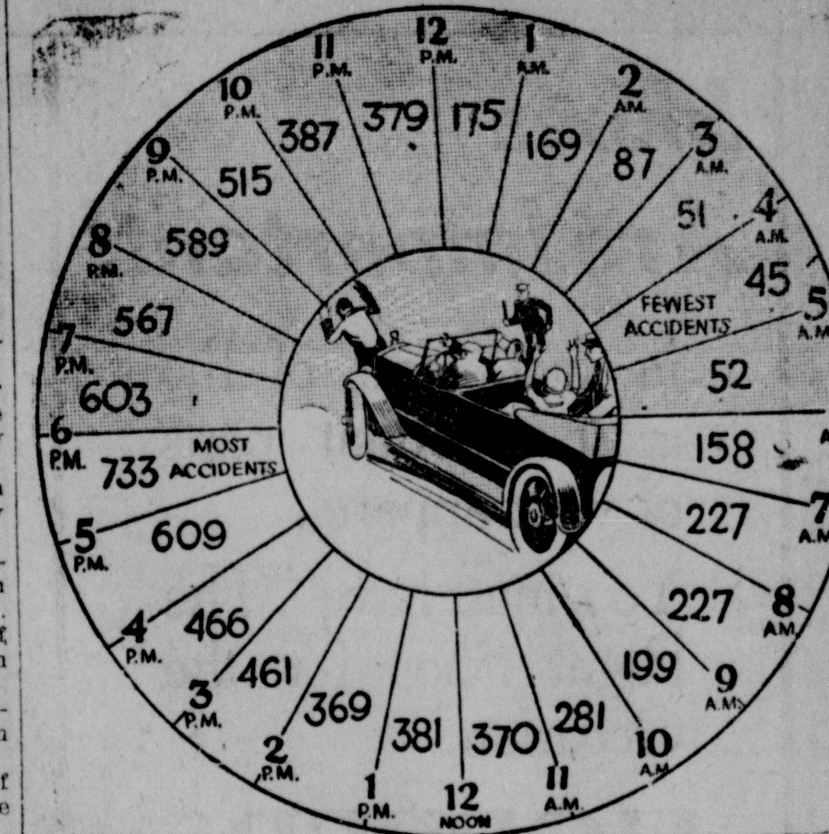

EX-GOVERNOR DENEEN TO SPEAK HERE. SEPT. 17

STATE CONVENTION COMMITTEES NAMED

President Gunn of Disciples Gathering Announces List — Two Men Deliver Morning Address on Educational Enterprises.

The committees who will transact the business and perfect the recommendations and form the resolutions of the convention of Disciples of Christ were announced at the session yesterday morning by the president, Rev. John I. Gunn. These committees will complete their work today and will probably all report at the session this morning.

The work of the convention yesterday was largely devoted to missions in the afternoon and to an address by Rev. S. E. Fisher on the Illinois Foundation and an address by President Bert Wilson of Eureka in the morning. These men presented the claims of their respective enterprises in fine addresses.

Dr. Wilson told something of the needs of Eureka college, emphasizing that the college is on the way to become an institution of five to six hundred students, which will call for some new dormitories. He pleaded with the churches to keep up their pledges to the general running expenses of the college and to increase these funds to $15,000 or $20,000 during the next year, in order that the institution would not have to close the year with a deficit. It is his determination, he said, to close the next year with a clear balance sheet and to keep within the budget set by the board of trustees. Dr. Wilson expects a freshman class this fall numbering 150.

Rev. Fisher spoke at length on YOUR FUEL NEEDS Springfield lump $5.50. Franklin County lump (Carterville) $6.75 per ton. We will be glad to serve you. WALTON & COMPANY Dependable Service PHONE—44 the work to be one at the University of Illinois, emphasizing the bigness of the task. He expects more than a thousand students at that institution this year who will express a preference for the Christian church, and for these the Foundation and the Campaign church, of which Dr. Fisher is pastor, are directly responsible. The speaker read two letters from parents and told of their desire that the church look after their children religiously while they attended the university.

The committees named by President Gunn to carry out the convention work are as follows:

GOLDEN JUBILEE IS CONVENTION SUBJECT

Afternoon and Evening Sessions Yesterday Taken Up With Missionary Celebration — Many Speakers Are Heard.

Yesterday afternoon and evening at the Disciples' convention was marked by attention to the Golden Jubilee of the missionary work of the denomination. A number of addresses by national and state workers gave full information as to the progress of the campaign to raise one million dollars, which the United States is making at this time.

During the afternoon, the ladies presented a number of papers, in which the past and present history and the future prospects of the missionary enterprises were discussed. Mrs. Guy Williamson, who had the paper on the future prospects, explained that the women were determined to go forward in the work and to do greater things than ever before. Many touching incidents concerning the sacrifices of missionaries on the foreign field were related by the various speakers.

The jubilee banquet, served by the ladies of Central Christian church, was held last night and was largely attended. The toastmistress was Mrs. Irene Rice. A number of home and foreign missionaries were presented, and also a young couple who are under appointment to go to the foreign field, but who are being held back by lack of funds in the missionary treasury.

Mrs. Dan Thomas presided over the evening session, at which three national workers made addresses. The speakers were Mrs. Atwater, one of the vice presidents of the United Societies; Dr. McCormick, head of the promotional department; and Miss Bertha Glosson, who has been for 27 years a missionary to Japan. Mrs. Atwater discussed the tremendous increase in the cost of missionary work which has taken place since the beginning of the world war. Although it now costs twice as much to put a missionary on the field and maintain him there as it cost before the war, yet the churches have not doubled their gifts. Some missionaries are living in the foreign field in houses with mud floors and are making great sacrifices to stay at the work.

To Erect Many Buildings
The jubilee fund which the United Societies are raising will be used to erect fifty buildings throughout the missionary centers of the world, only two of which are in the United States. The fund of $100,000 which is being raised among the Christian churches of Illinois as a part of the jubilee gift, will be used to erect the Merrill Memorial church in the foreign center of New York, and to build new structures at Drake college in Tokyo, Japan. The building in Tokyo will be a boys' dormitory.

Fifteen of the fifty buildings to be erected will be homes for missionaries, enabling them to have some comfort and safety in the foreign fields. Six of the buildings will be orphanages, and eight will be churches.

Miss Glosson, who expects to return to Japan this fall to begin her fifth term of service, told the audience of the improvements in the Margaret K. Long girls' school at Tokyo, where she has been working for the past 19 years. She also told of the dire conditions at Drake college and the urgent need of a boys' dormitory there.

Dr. McCormick made a strong address, relating the story of heroism on the part of some of the missionaries. He told of the needs in the foreign districts of our own large cities. He said that if a line was drawn from New York, thru Baltimore and to Chicago, it would mark off to the north a great foreign section in which 27,000,000 young people are growing up without religious training. Below 42nd street in New York City there is practically no English spoken. The Christian missionary who works now in that section has had his place robbed, and murders are frequently committed in neighboring blocks. There has been some talk of pulling the missionaries out of these great centers, but Dr. McCormick expressed it as his belief that if this is done, it will be condemned by the Master.

Today will see the conclusion of the convention and the program will be as follows:

VETS ARE GUESTS OF K. C. AT CIRCUS

Seventy-Five Former Service Men Went to Circus Yesterday Thru Courtesy of Knights of Columbus.

The local Knights of Columbus furnished tickets to the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus yesterday afternoon to seventy-five ex-service men of the U. S. Veterans Training Center at Jacksonville State hospital. Tickets were furnished to the veterans and they were taken to the big show in charge of several attendants. Arrangements were made by James T. Magner, secretary of the Knights of Columbus.

During the war time a considerable amount of money was raised by the Knights of Columbus for the entertainment of soldiers, and what remained of this fund at the end of the war is now being distributed among the branches to be used as seems best. Twice a week the local Knights of Columbus committee visits the State hospital and distributes cigars and candy and toilet articles among the ex-service men at the center.

MRS. WILLIAM VASEY CALLED BY DEATH

Long Time Resident of County Passed Away at 3 o'clock Wednesday Afternoon — Funeral Friday Morning.

The death of Mrs. Louisa Vasey, wife of William Vasey, occurred at the family home, 1650 South Main street, at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Vasey had been ill for some time and her death was not unexpected.

The deceased was born in Scarborough, England, July 23, 1835, and she was therefore eighty-nine years of age at the time of her death. In early life she came to this state and all the intervening years have been spent in this locality.

Her marriage to William Vasey occurred May 10, 1857, and Mr. Vasey survives, together with the following children: Mrs. Thomas Young, Woodson; William Vasey, Woodson; Mrs. Hannah Hemmings, Jacksonville; Mrs. John Baxter, Woodson; Edgar Vasey, Woodson. One brother also survives, John Robinson, resident in England. The deceased also leaves seventeen grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Mrs. Vasey was well known among the older residents of the county and has numerous friends all of whom will regret to learn of her death.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning from Asbury church, in charge of Rev. A. E. Powell, former pastor of the Woodson Presbyterian church. Interment will be made in the Asbury cemetery.

CELEBRATED MINSTRELS ARE COMING

The minstrel fans of this vicinity will be pleased to learn that one of the very best and largest minstrel organizations on the road is to visit this city.

Possibly certain people have forgotten that they are minstrel fans because it has been so long since they had an opportunity to see a really first-class minstrel—however, the fever of minstrel mania will get them when the richly dressed parade of the Famous Georgia Minstrels pass over our streets at noon the day they appear here.

The amusement question has by some people always involved the "questionable" amusement question, but that theme is never aroused by the coming of a high-class minstrel like the "Georgia." Base ball games, a good circus, and an up-to-date minstrel seem to be at least three forms of amusements which are never questioned by the scrupulous.

Laughter, the creating of laughter is the one purpose of the minstrel, as well as the rendering of tuneful and pleasing songs. The minstrel man has been known from almost the beginning of this world's history and was well known by the writers of Biblical affairs. It is this very characteristic of the minstrel which makes it capable of appealing to all classes and when the Famous Georgia Minstrels appear at the Grand Theater Saturday, matinee and night, there will be seen hundreds of people in the theater who are not habitual theatre goers.

G. O. P. COMMITTEE READY FOR CAMPAIGN

Conference Luncheon Held Yesterday—National, State and County Tickets Praised.

Members of the Morgan county Republican central committee held a get together luncheon conference Wednesday noon at the Peacock Inn. Practically all members of the committee were present. Charles S. Black is chairman of the central committee and Miller Weir is secretary. It was quite an informal meeting, most of those present taking part in the discussion, and it was quite evident that a feeling of optimism prevailed with reference to the whole Republican ticket. Members of the committee grant that it is an unusually quiet pre-election time, but they also know that this condition is not local but represents a country wide situation. H. H. Bancroft, member of the state central committee was the first speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Reeve and Mrs. W. L. Alexander told something of the strong sentiment for President Coolidge in the east, they having recently returned from journeys there. State Auditor Andrew Russel told of recent conversations with Charles G. Dawes candidate for the vice-presidency, and gave his opinion that this man, who is going from coast to coast clearly outlining his position on every important question, is going to add a great deal of strength to the ticket.

Praise For Governor

Miller Weir, who began his bank examination work under Mr. Dawes as comptroller, spoke in most complimentary way of the vice presidential candidate. Then Mr. Weir brought the discussion from national scope to the state, and declared his belief that Gov. Small will be re-elected by a large majority. Mr. Weir said that he was not under personal obligation to the governor, had no thought of asking favors from him, but wanted to hear testimony as a matter of justice that there was no evidence of wrong doing on the part of the governor with reference to interest payments. He said that he was present every day during the trial at Kankakee and as an accountant had examined the books and records, and knows that there has been nothing illegally done.

He charged the Chicago Tribune with a continued campaign of misrepresentation in its effort to kill Gov. Small politically at any cost. Then he spoke of the personal character of the governor and the esteem in which he is held in his home city and county.

At the beginning of the program Chairman Black expressed his pleasure in introducing Mr. Bancroft as a member from this district of the Republican state central committee. Mr. Bancroft emphasized the wisdom of party responsibility as is shown in the history of the government and said that more progress had been made in this way than would have been possible otherwise.

Coolidge and Common Sense
Then he referred to the Republican national convention at Cleveland, of the fine spirit and enthusiasm which prevailed although it was certain in advance that President Coolidge would be re-nominated. He spoke of the fact that it was an accomplishment to have maintained enthusiasm when the first man nominated for the vice presidency declined the honor.

Mr. Bancroft quoted the phrase of President Coolidge, who says that he has "an abiding faith in the common sense of the common people of the commonwealth" and said that this sentence indicates the leadership which the party has and that citizens cannot do better than to follow the mandates of the party as laid down.

W. L. Fay in talking particularly of county affairs, stressed the need that candidates have to keep everlastingly at it.

Others who spoke were Mrs. Miller Weir, chairman of the women's county organization; Mrs. Grant Graft, Mrs. J. Marshall; Mr. Grant; Mrs. Nelson of Chapin; Judge H. P. Samuel, C. F. Wemple, James Brown, C. Franum, Hugh P. Green, E. L. Mawson, William A. Fay and the following members of the central committee: Messrs. Riley, Biggs, Graft, Fairbank, Berger, Fernandes, Cade and Wright.

A telegram was read by Chairman Black during the session, announcing the coming of Former Governor Charles S. Deneen, now a candidate for U. S. senatorship. Mr. Deneen will make an address at the court house the evening of Wednesday, September 17.

DAIRY COW PROVES RIGHT TO HER PLACE

Urbana, Ill. The dairy cow has proved her right to a job on Illinois farms, regardless of changes which farmers may make in their general farming practices as a result of the higher prices of farm grains according to C. S. Rhode, dairy extension specialist of the University of Illinois.

"With better prices for farm products many farmers are apt to make the mistake of dispensing with the services of the dairy cow," Mr. Rhode said. "During the last few years there has been a tendency to adopt a system of diversified farming and in many cases the dairy cow has become a part of that system. She fits in well with the scheme."

"Through her efficiency, the farmers have marketed their farm feeds to good advantage. The monthly milk and cream checks which she has added to the farmer's bank account have helped him out of many a tight place and it would be a poor business to cut off this source of income simply because of higher prices for grains."

Instead of gradually decreasing the herd of dairy cattle, as many farmers are now doing, the better plan is to gradually improve the herd, Mr. Rhode believes.

Record-keeping with the dairy production of each cow determined, will soon show where improvement can be made.

"If dairy cows have become a part of the general farm practice it seems advisable to keep them on the job. This is a good time to improve the herd and build it up, instead of dispersing it. The cows that do not measure up to a paying standard should be weeded out. Good breeding should be emphasized, so that the future herd will be an improvement over the present one."

THIS WOMAN RELIEVED FROM SUFFERING

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Remarkable Story

Dover, Del.—"I wish every woman would take your wonderful medicine as it has done so much good to me. I had cramps and faint spells and very bad pains. One day I was over to my neighbor's house and she told me I ought to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I went to the store on my way home and got a bottle, and took the first dose before supper. I have been taking it ever since, and you can hardly believe how different I feel. I had just wanted to lie in bed all the time, and when I started to brush up I would give out in about ten minutes. So you know how badly I felt. I used to go to bed at eight and get up at seven, still tired. Now I can work all day and stay up until eleven, and feel all right all the time. My housework is all I do in summer, but in winter I work in a factory. I have told a good many of my friends, and I have had three come to me and tell me they wouldn't do without the Vegetable Compound." Mrs. SAMUEL MURPHY, 219 Cecil St., Dover, Delaware.

Billy Evans SAYS

"Too bad Walter Johnson has never had the opportunity to pitch in a world series."

For years that has been the sad lament of baseball fans and experts the country over.

Now that the Washington club is strongly in the running for the American League pennant, what about the world series chances of Walter Johnson.

Ever since his entry into the American League, Johnson has been noted for his terrific speed.

"You can't hit what you can't see," has for years been the theory of American League batters in explaining their inability to hit Johnson's fast one.

During the first two years of his career he attained fame as a big leaguer without the aid of a curve ball. Opposing batters knew they could always look for a fast one, but he still tells you that the fast one is his one best bet. This, even after 18 years of campaigning, in the big show.

Later Johnson acquired a good curve, now has a deceptive change of pace, but he still tells you that the fast one is his one best bet. This, even after 18 years of campaigning, in the big show.

Without a doubt Johnson's fast ball is just a little swifter than that of any pitcher I have ever umpired for.

Johnson can still pump the fast one through with as much stuff as ever, but he only bears down occasionally. He is now content to win with the least possible strain on his arm.

During the first twelve years of his major league career, I believe Johnson could have won a world series single handed.

A team looking at Johnson's great speed for the first time during that period of greatness, would have found him almost unhittable.

The lively ball was not in use at that time. This feature must be given consideration when discussing Johnson's chances in a world series.

Speed is made to order for the lively ball if the batsman can properly time the fast one. While speed, well controlled, is still a pitcher's greatest asset, it is not as dominant a factor as it was with the old style ball.

The curve and the change of pace is most necessary. Johnson boasts both and would in no way be handicapped.

However, fans and critics, in discussing Johnson in relation to a world series, always had in mind his great speed.

The desire was to see what Johnson would be able to do with his fast ball. The display of speed was regarded as Johnson's punch in a world series.

I do not believe that Johnson's great speed would be as big a factor today as during the first dozen years of his career. Conditions have brought about a change, the lively ball and short fences.

Still, if Washington wins the American League, count on Walter Johnson to supply some world series thrill with his pitching.

He is still a marvel after 18 years in the majors, most of the time with an also-ran club, that forced him to continually extend himself to win.

FIGHT RETURNS

Returns on the Firpo-Willis fight will be received by the JOURNAL over its Associated Press leased wire tonight.

The preliminaries will start about 7 o'clock.

FIRPO AND WILLIS ARE IN TRIM FOR TONIGHT

Argentinian Rules Slight Favorite, But "Brown Panther" Also Has Financial Following—Dempsy to Be One of Ringside Spectators.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (By The Associated Press).—"The wild bull," primed for his mighty charge, and the "brown panther" crouched for his spring are ready for the call that will send them into action tomorrow night.

These giant fistic rivals and leading aspirants for title honors—Luis Angel Firpo, pride of the Argentines, and Harry Willis, greatest of present—will match their punching powers in the outstanding ring battle of the year.

They are matched for twelve rounds in Boyle's Thirty Acres, in Jersey City.

The eve of the fight, which has attracted scarcely less interest than a title battle, found Firpo a slight favorite among expert observers and betting circles. The Argentinean's greater ruggedness and hitting, a majority of critics believed, would carry him to triumph over Willis.

Based on these views, many large wagers were reported with the South American slightly the favorite, but the giant negro was not lacking in financial support.

The fight program, which includes five other bouts is scheduled to start at 8:15 p. m., Eastern daylight time. The main event is slated for 10 p. m., but Promoter Tex Rickard announced tonight that if rain threatens during the program, he will put it on immediately and without regard to the test of the card so as to avoid possible interference. In the event rain blocks the entire show, it will be staged Friday night.

The advance seat sale today passed the $400,000 mark, according to Rickard, who predicted that between 60,000 and 70,000 would pay close to $800,000 to see the bout.

Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, will see from the ringside seat his two foremost challengers battle for the right to meet him next year in a title bout.

RED GRANGE HEAVES ICE TO KEEP SELF IN GOOD CONDITION

Illini Star Reports He Is Ready to Start The Season

CHAPAIN, Ill., Sept. 10.—Harold Grange, idol of the University of Illinois campus and the town of Wheaton, all-American halfback, and wrecker of title hopes entertained by other Big Ten universities, is an ice man. Red turned down an offer of an easy clerical job just to keep his muscles in good shape for the coming football season.

After heaving around fifty and hundred-pound clumps of frozen water for the summer, the all-American back reports that he is in the best of condition. However, he is not letting his muscles get so that he cannot perform his football duties. The last few weeks of his vacation he is spending in a nearby resort in other athletics.

Thousands of fans far and wide are wondering if the star can repeat his sensational record of last season. Against every opponent whom he played, he scored at least one touchdown. Starting the season with three counters against the highly touted Nebraska team, victors over Notre Dame, he totaled twelve touchdowns in seven games. He played only 295 minutes and gained 1,200 yards.

Here's his record by games:
39 minutes Nebraska, 208 yards; three touchdowns.

60 minutes Iowa, 175 yards; one touchdown.

28 minutes Butler, 142 yards; two touchdowns.

19 minutes, Northwestern, 251 yards; three touchdowns.

39 minutes Chicago, 160 yards, one touchdown.

30 minutes Wisconsin, 140 yards, one touchdown.

60 minutes Ohio State, 184 yards; one touchdown.

Although only a sophomore, he was chosen unanimously for all of the star teams picked. With two years of competition left, Red will be a marked man in all of his games. He has not been stopped yet and many are wondering if he can be. Illinois enthusiasts say it can't be done.

With Grange out of the lineup the offense of the Illini was listless but the instant he was substituted it became a hard fighting machine. In the Wisconsin game, Grange scored his touchdown in the first half. The second half of the game, with Red benched, the Illini were contented to stay on the defense. Without him in the lineup of the Butler game, the visitors were keeping Illinois busy. As soon as Grange was dispatched from the sidelines the playing of the Orange and Blue picked up. Red counted two touchdowns, just the number of points that Illinois won by.

The nearest that Grange came to being stopped was in the Ohio State game. For three quarters he had failed to score or do any serious damage to the Ohio defense. In the final quarter with the ball on his own 10 yard line, Red put the ball over the goal line in six plays, gaining 78 of the 81 yards. Schultz made the other three yards on two line plunges.

GIANTS GAIN HALF GAME ON ROBINS

Win Two From Braves While Pittsburgh and Brooklyn Are Winning One Each—Senators and Yanks Hold Same Distance.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The Giants smothered Boston twice today, gained a half game on both Brooklyn and Pittsburgh as each of the latter won and now lead the Robins by one contest and the Pirates by three and one half.

Washington split even with the Athletics but retained its one and one half contest lead over the Yankees whose game at Boston was postponed by rain. Detroit, after winning seven straight, succumbed to Chicago and is five games back of first place.

The Giants have sixteen games to play and Brooklyn 14. Both teams finish at home. The Pirates with twenty to play conclude on the road.

The Washington team has 17 and the Yankees 18 remaining, all away. Detroit has 15 at home.

The standing of contending teams with games remaining to be played are today as follows:

GIANTS TAKE DOUBLE HEADER FROM BRAVES

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The New York Giants gained a half game on Brooklyn here today, defeating Boston 22 to 1 and 8 to 0, while Brooklyn was winning one from Philadelphia. In the first game New York gave Boston the worst defeat of the National League season. The Giants cracked out 27 hits for 45 bases. Frisch hit six hits in succession, including a home run, but missed trying Wilbert Robinson's record of 1894 by being thrown out on a bunt in his last time up.

BUYING FOR EXPORT
HELPS WHEAT PRICE

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Active buying presumably in connection with a broad export trade helped wheat prices upward today, closing quotations on wheat were firm $1.28 1/2 to $1.28 3/4, and May $1.34 1/2 to $1.34 3/4, with corn showing a decline, oats unchanged to 1 1/2c lower and provisions varying from 12c drop to 10c gain.

Upturn in the wheat market were preceded by weakness during the early dealings, the United States government crop having a temporary depressing effect.
Houses with seaboard connections became liberal buyers too, especially of the December delivery and it was surmised that the purchasing represented liberal sales to Europe. It was current gossip also that considerable wheat and rye had been bought here for trans-Atlantic shipment, in addition to amounts taken at the seaboard and in the northwest for European requirements. French import requirements had been doubled of late did a good deal to keep the wheat market pointing higher as the day drew to an end and so likewise did chances that the Canadian government crop figures this afternoon would be bullish. Rain in Argentina where drought has been a handicap to the wheat crop had but little influence on the market here the moisture having apparently failed to reach the districts most in need of relief.

Surprise at the relative smallness of the reduction of the government estimate of the corn crop weakened the corn market. Provisions not great damage by a frost last night was reported. Illinois and Iowa reports of bad condition brought about price rallies which however, failed to held well.
Oats were easy owing to sympathy with corn.

Provisions averaged lower in the absence of any important buying.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Cash wheat today finished 1/2c better in prices, while premiums and discounts were firm on winter grade and nominally unchanged for 520,000 bushels, of which 500,000 were sold to exporters. Charters were made here from 250,000 bushels wheat to Port Colborne.

Country offerings to arrive were light.

The seaboard estimated that 400,000 to 500,000 bushels worked for export in all positions.

Demand for corn was good and the market closed 1/2c higher while the trading basis was 1/2c lower to 1/4c better compared with yesterday's figures.

Shipping sales here were 190,
000 bushels.

Country offerings to arrive were light.

Wheat was 1/2c higher; No. 2 white sold at 1 1/2c under December price against 1/2c over els was worked for export. Country offerings to arrive were light.

Boils!

S.S.S. will rid you of boils, pimples, blackheads and skin eruptions!

DON'T CLOSE your eyes to the warning which Nature gives when angry, painful boils appear on your neck, face or other parts of your body. Boils, pimples and so-called skin disorders are the result of an impoverished condition of the blood and are not to be trifled with.

It is nothing more than folly to expect to get absolute relief from the use of local treatments, such as ointments, salves, etc. Such remedies may afford temporary relief but you want more than relief; you want a remedy which will rid you forever of the torturing disorders. And the one remedy which has no equal is S.S.S.

S.S.S. stops boils and keeps them from coming. S.S.S. builds blood power! That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights skin eruptions—pimples, blackheads, eczema! It always wins! S.S.S. has been known since 1826 as one of the greatest blood builders, blood cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. There are no unproven theories about S.S.S., the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities. Begin taking S.S.S. today and clear your skin of those blood disorders!

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.
